

RIVER RISES EIGHT INCHES TUESDAY NIGHT

Valley Road Out Off and Part of Green Bay Line Is Washed Out

(From Tuesday's Daily.) With an eight inch rise in the Wisconsin river over night, basements in many local homes flooded and all roads west of the city many feet under water, the crest of the Wisconsin river flood was believed to have been reached in Stevens Point today.

An April snowstorm which came up Monday night and continued during today added to the burden which the over-taxed stream has been compelled to bear, occurring after almost a week of repeated rains throughout the valley north from here.

Relief was seen today, however, with reports from Wausau and Merrill of a decline of from eight inches to a foot in the stage of the water in those cities. While steadily rising here during the morning, the effects of the drop farther north will be felt here within 24 hours unless heavy snow or rainfall is experienced.

Spillway Opened Up

The entire width of the Wisconsin river at the Consolidated power plant here has been opened to the stream by removal of boards which held back the water at the spillway between the gate farthest out in the stream and the west bank of the river. This permits a large additional volume of water to be taken off. Two generators in the power house have also been opened to carry off water through the building and 15 gates in the dam remained open today. The water had reached a level this morning where it was up to the edge of the basement windows of the power house, fully a foot higher than at its highest stage in the spring of 1921.

Rapids Under Water

Reports received this morning from Wisconsin Rapids indicate that city is much worse off than Stevens Point as a result of the flood stage. Basements of stores and other buildings are being flooded and some property damage has already resulted. Besides getting all the flood water from here, Wisconsin Rapids is getting all that pours out of the Big Plover river at its mouth south of this city.

West Side All Water

Roads west of Stevens Point, which were closed to traffic on Monday, were in worse condition today with a larger territory inundated and the flood water forming a stream which in many places is as wide where it flows through the marshlands as the normal width of the Wisconsin river. All of Linwood and the territory to the west and north is cut off from the city. Just west of the Soo crossing on Central avenue more than three feet of water is surging across the highway, roaring as it rushes down to the lowlands on the lower side of the highway. Hundreds of acres of land which Rocky Run drains is under water. On road 18 west more than two feet of water is surging across the concrete and rip rap for a stretch of more than a mile.

Ditch Inadequate

Flooding of north side basements today brought many calls to Mayor J. N. Welsky, who this morning held a conference with Anton Laszewski, chairman of the town of Hull. The western section of that town is under water and volumes of water are flowing down through the lowlands into the city limits. As a solution to the flood problem in this territory, a wider ditch draining the western section of the town of Hull was proposed. The present ditch, located north of the city limits west of Highway No. 10, a half mile in length, is inadequate to handle but a small part of the water. Mr. Laszewski believes that much water can be drained off, however, by dredging out the ditch and eventually constructing additional ditches, and this plan was discussed with the mayor today. Four mile creek helps to drain the territory hit the hardest, but this stream and the present ditch fail to provide anywhere near the drainage needed.

Valley Trains Stop

The Milwaukee road right of way north of Mosinee is under water for a distance of two miles and Valley division trains are being routed from Wisconsin Rapids over the Northwestern tracks to Marshfield and thence to Wausau. Special accommodation service is in operation between Wisconsin Rapids and Mosinee. The extent of the damage cannot be estimated until after the river has subsided.

Green Bay Washed Out

High water in the Wolf river near New London washed out about 40 feet of track on the main line of the Green Bay and Western road on Sunday, and

Police On The Dike To Stop Dynamiting And Flooding of City

Reports to the mayor that threats had been made to blow up the dike to relieve the water situation to the north of the embankment caused the mayor to order the swearing in of special policemen to guard the dike today. They went on duty Tuesday afternoon. Two are to be at the dike in the daytime and three at night until the danger is past.

Would Flood Town

In case the dike were opened the flood waters would pass through the city down George street and through the block just south of Brawley street, in the natural depression running to the river, as they did in the historic flood of 1880, when it was impossible to go from the south side to the upper part of town without a boat. The situation now would be far worse than in 1880, as scores of new homes would now be in the very path of the flood. The danger was called to the mayor's notice by F. A. Newberger, who lives in the district covered in 1880, and immediate action was taken to avert the possibility of trouble.

Dam a Help

While a representative of the Journal was at the mayor's office Alderman R. K. McDonald called, and stated that he believed the Consolidated dam here is really relieving the situation because it lets the water through so fast. He said that the water below the dam is higher than ever before while above the dam it is not yet at a record. "Bliss" island is out of sight today, the first time I ever knew that to be the case," he said.

New Road Wrecked

Alderman McDonald received word that a half mile of the new Linwood road, put in last year, had been swept away by the floods.

CARS ARE DAMAGED ON TEN IN PLOVER

Paper Company's Sedan in Collision With Auto Driven by George Cartmill of Plover

The sedan owned by the Whitting-Plover paper company, and a car driven by George Cartmill of Plover were damaged at noon Tuesday when they collided on Highway 10 at Bourn's corner, south of McDill. The paper mill car was driven by Adelbert Schler.

The paper company car, containing office employees, was being driven east on the road running from the paper-mills to No. 10 on its way to the city. Mr. Cartmill was driving to Plover. The cars collided when, in trying to avoid a collision, Mr. Cartmill's machine skidded on the wet concrete pavement.

The Whitting-Plover machine had a fender crumpled and light broken and the car driven by Mr. Cartmill was badly damaged. The fender on one side was smashed, the windshield broken, and the top of the car somewhat damaged.

NEW ROAD SURVEYED

Just 200 Feet of a Mile on Paper Mill Route to No. 10

The new concrete route from the Whitting-Plover paper mill to Highway No. 10 was surveyed Monday by an engineer from the division engineer's office at Wisconsin Rapids. The distance was found to be just 5,000 feet. Plans will be out in a week and bids will be asked by the town.

service on Monday was delayed while passengers and baggage were being transferred. The transfer across the washed out section was halted on Monday when it became too dangerous. Passenger trains are running from Green Bay as far as New London Junction and from Winona and Wisconsin Rapids as far east as Royalton, then making return trips in each case. New London is without Green Bay train service.

Floods Near Wausau

All streams in the vicinity of Wausau are over their banks. The Eau Claire river carried away a section of sluice boards on the Schofield dam. Both Big and Little Rib rivers are sending large volumes of water into Lake Wausau and both of the Eau Claire rivers are adding to the flood at

WILLIAM E. WEST SOO CONDUCTOR TAKEN BY DEATH

Paralysis Proves Fatal To Prominent Local Railroad Worker

After lingering in an unconscious state for four days, William E. West, one of the Soo Line's oldest and most popular conductors and a resident of Stevens Point for more than 40 years, sank peacefully into his last long sleep at 6:10 o'clock Monday evening at his home, 314 Oak street.

The end came as a result of a stroke of paralysis, which came upon him suddenly last Thursday evening. From the time he was stricken until he was claimed by death, Mr. West showed only faint signs of recognition of members of his family, who were at his bedside constantly. It was apparent from the first that the end was not far distant, and members of the family who reside in other cities were summoned.

Although he had not enjoyed the best of health for four or five years, Mr. West was able to continue at work, with occasional vacation periods, until April 2. He then made plans to go to Hot Springs, Ark., for health treatments, his intention being to leave for that place the latter part of last week.

Born in Maine

William E. West was of New England ancestry and was born at East Machias, Maine, June 28, 1860. His father, Jeremiah W. West, enlisted for service in the Union army when William E. West was but a few months old and served with his regiment until he was killed at the battle of Fair Oaks, Va., May 5, 1862. The Grand Army Post at East Machias, Maine, was named in his honor.

William E. West, the fourth and youngest child in the family, came to Stevens Point with his mother in 1879, having received his early education in the schools of East Machias and also at Brooklyn, N. Y. After coming to Stevens Point he took up first the occupation of a saw mill worker, but on December 24, 1880, began his employment with the Wisconsin Central railway. His first work was as switchman for four years. Subsequently he was promoted to the position of local yardmaster, which he filled for five years. He next became a brakeman and on June 10, 1890, was made a freight conductor. Mr. West was for 15 years in charge of the Portage branch freight train and for the past eight years had a passenger run between Stevens Point and Chicago.

Surviving Relatives

On September 29, 1883, Mr. West was married to Grace Whitney, whose father, George Whitney, was a pioneer lumberman of this vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. West were parents of six children, of whom the eldest, a daughter, Winifred, died in infancy. The widow and the following children survive: William H. West, Detroit; Myron W. West, Fond du Lac; Mrs. Harold Playman, Appleton; Dr. Harold West, Almond, and Mrs. Bert O'Connor, Stevens Point. All of the children were at the bedside of their father during his last few days, as were also Mrs. Myron W. West and two daughters. One member of Mr. West's own immediate family survives, Mrs. Emma D. Rollins of Marietta, Okla. Henry K. West, a brother, died in Stevens Point on November 28, 1921, and another sister, Mrs. Clementine Natt, in Brooklyn, N. Y., in April, 1921.

Led Honorable Life

The passing of William E. West removes a man whose whole life was devoted to high ideals. He had hundreds of friends, not only in Stevens Point, but all along the Soo system, and to them "Billie" West was the embodiment of man's best attributes. One quality that seemed to dominate his nature was his kindness of heart, which found countless means of expression. He was deeply devoted to his family and friends. In his long period of responsible service as a railroad worker he was ever conscientious and faithful. It is no exaggeration to say that there is not an acquaintance who will not regard his death as a personal loss.

Mr. West was affiliated with the Order of Railway Conductors, the Macabees and the Brotherhood of All Railroad Employees.

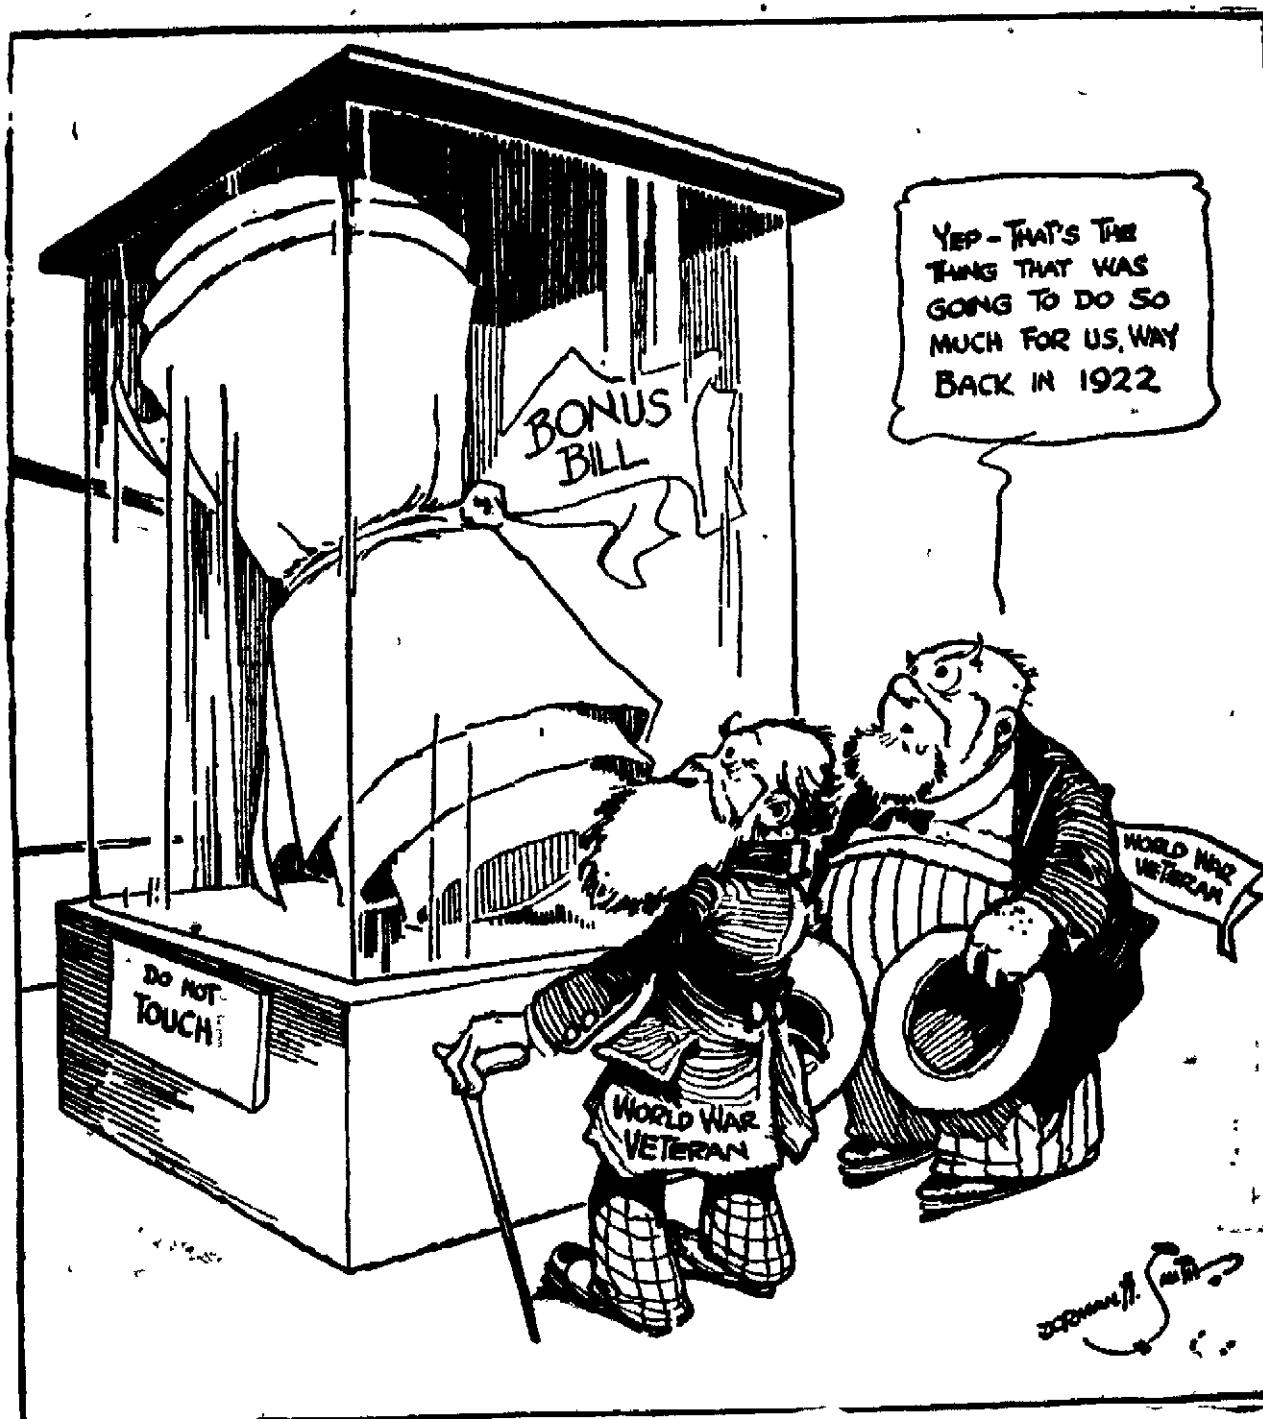

Funeral Thursday

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon.

FERDINAND HIRZY LEAVES THE CITY ON LONG JOURNEY

Local Man to Sail on April 19 With Mr. and Mrs. Nick Miller on a Tour of Europe

Ferdinand Hirzy left Stevens Point early Saturday on a business and pleasure trip to Europe of several months' duration.

Mr. Hirzy goes from Stevens Point to Pittsburgh, Pa., where he will spend a week with a niece, Mrs. Ann Bauer, and other relatives.

On Saturday, April 15, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Miller of this city, who are also to make an extensive trip in Europe, will leave for Pittsburgh and together the three local people will go to New York, arriving there on Sunday, April 16. They embark on the steamer "Minnikahda" on April 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller will leave Mr. Hirzy when the liner reaches Cherbourg, France, from where they will go first to Alsace-Lorraine, where Mr. Miller's old home is located.

Mr. Hirzy will continue on to Hamburg, from where he will go to Berlin, and then to Vienna, in Austria. Budapest, the capital of Hungary, is also in his itinerary. A daughter, Mrs. Marie Kozma, resides in Kispes, a suburb of Budapest.

Mr. Hirzy will also visit in Bourgenland, in Hungary, where a brother, Alois, lives, and where he has extensive land holdings. Mr. Hirzy's principal reason for visiting in Europe is to attend to business matters in connection with this property. How long a time will be necessary to adjust his business affairs in this district, Mr. Hirzy does not know.

While in Europe the local man intends to go to Oberammergau, where the Passion Play, given every ten years by the people of that village, will be enacted this year. It was not given on the tenth year, 1920, because of the fact that war had reduced the residents of the village to poverty.

The Passion Play lasts for eight hours with an intermission of one hour at noon; and though occurring only once in a decade is repeated on several Sundays in succession during the season. The characters in the play number about 600.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller will go from Cherbourg to Paris, where they will spend two weeks. From Paris they will leave for a visit to the most famous of the war scenes in France, at Verdun, Metz, Nancy, and Saarburg. From Saarburg they will go to Sarreguemund a Kalhau, in Alsace-Lorraine. Mr. Miller's old home, where he will remain several weeks, is

Blaine's Removal Of Sheriff Rodd Is Held Illegal

Madison, April 11—Governor John J. Blaine's action in ousting Hans Rodd, sheriff of Oneida county, for disobeying his pardon order for Peter Christ, lumberjack labor leader, was annulled by the Wisconsin supreme court today. Christ's conviction was for civil contempt, which is not open to pardon, the decision of the court held.

Only One

Justice Eschweiler was the only justice dissenting. He held that the conviction was for a criminal contempt and the governor's action was therefore legal.

Peter Christ was pardoned last December, ten days before a four months' sentence for contempt of court by Circuit Judge A. H. Reid was finished. Sheriff Rodd refused to obey the pardon order and held Christ the remainder of his sentence. "In refusing, to release Christ, the sheriff was doing his official duty," the high court's decision, read by Judge Owen, declared. The governor issued an order for the removal of Rodd and appointed a successor, but Rodd refused to vacate and he brought proceedings. The governor's order was today "vacated, annulled and set aside." "Each department of the government, legislative, judicial and executive is a separate branch and each is supreme in its appeals." The executive's action of entering into the judicial field was repudiated by the decision, which defined that "no department may approach on the prerogative of the other."

The action of Judge Reid in discussing the case at a meeting of the state bar at Janesville last month while the case was pending in the supreme court, was severely criticized by the decision which "deeply regretted" the conduct of the circuit judge and who had denied and resisted the power asserted by the governor in his discussion of the merits of the case while it was pending.

Mr. Miller has three brothers and a sister living there. Emil, Henry Alois and Mrs. Alfons Herrmann. After visiting in Alsace-Lorraine they will leave for Baden, where a sister of Mrs. Miller resides and where they will also spend some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller will visit most of the famous places of beauty in the Rhine valley while in Germany, and will probably make other trips to various places in Germany which they do not have in their itinerary now.

During Ferdinand Hirzy's absence from the city his jewelry store on Main street will be conducted under the management of Ferdinand Hirzy, Jr., his son. The younger Mr. Hirzy has had considerable experience in jewelry work, and has been associated for a number of years with his father.

PAPER MILL ROAD CLOSED BY TOWN DANGEROUS TO USE

At McDill Hard Work Is Necessary to Save Mill From Flooding and in Protection of New State Highway

The paper mill road at the top of the hill at the upper mill, and below the second bridge at the lower mill, was ordered closed by Chairman D. H. Parks of the town of Plover Tuesday. "It is possible to ignore the signs and drive by," said Mr. Parks, "but the person doing it is taking a big risk, too big a risk to take just out of curiosity. The lower mill can be reached by the other road."

The concrete just north of the upper bridge is being undermined. A crew was put on today to rip-rap it. Six inches of water lie on the concrete road for a distance of 30 rods. Water is running over the bridges.

Danger at McDill

The shoulders and filling against the concrete on the new road on No. 10 at McDill are washing out. The county has a crew of men placing bags of sand to protect the road and bridge. The water Tuesday afternoon was within a foot of the floor of the new bridge.

Manager E. G. Goodell of the Stevens Point Pulp and Paper company has a crew of men at work on the old road and bridge in front of the mill. The water is flowing over the old bridge. The old roadbed has been raised two feet with bags of sand to prevent water flowing into the mill itself. It looks as though the old bridge, which is bent and twisted, may go out at any moment. A big white pine stump has fallen into the sluiceway, impeding the flow of water.

RIVER ROAD SOUTH CLOSED BY FLOOD

Section of Linwood Opposite Paper Mills Reports Record High Water

The river road on the west side of the Wisconsin river opposite the paper mills was closed to traffic Tuesday. The entire territory is inundated and no vehicles can get through. Residents in that part of Linwood asserted this afternoon that the water is higher than it was in 1911, when it was said a record flood occurred there. Robert Galloway reported to the

PARK PLANNED ON SOUTH SIDE NEAR SOO DEPOT

City Property To Be Converted Into Municipal Tract Soon

The block which the city owns on the south side, bounded by Division, Monroe, Church and Depot streets, is soon to be converted into a municipal park.

Plans for the park project were laid on Friday afternoon at a meeting in the office of Supt. W. W. Wade of the Soo Line. The railroad company is cooperating with local interests in the undertaking and is desirous of having the park established.

Attending the meeting were Mr. Wade, M. E. Bruce representing the city park commission, City Attorney W. E. Atwell and a committee of women headed by Mrs. J. A. Bunker representing the Woman's club which appeared in the interests of a memorial to local men who lost their lives in the World War. The park is to contain some suitable memorial.

Curb-Gutter Needed

It was the opinion of those at the meeting that curb and gutter should be laid along three out of the four streets which bound the block which do not now have this improvement. The Division street block is the only one which already has the curb and gutter. With this feature added on the three remaining sides it will be possible to establish a grade line and fill in the property near Church street at a point which is lower than the rest.

To Beautify Tract

While everything planned for the park may not be accomplished this year, it was decided that whatever was done should be in the nature of permanent improvement. The block is to be seeded to grass for a lawn and walks made of cinders or other material will be built through it. Shrubs will also be planted, according to the tentative plans.

The park commission has a fund of $1,900 available for an undertaking of this kind and a meeting of that body has been called for Monday afternoon to take up the proposal to appropriate that sum. No opposition from any members of the board is looked for. The common council is in charge of a park bond fund of equal amount which it will be asked to vote to the park board for expenditure on the proposed park. This matter will come before the council at its April meeting next Tuesday evening. With a fund of $3,800 available, those in charge of the undertaking believe that much can be accomplished this season.

See Artist Coming

Superintendent Wade announced at the meeting that L. P. Green of Minneapolis, a landscape artist in the employ of the Soo Line, would come to Stevens Point to consult with those in charge and offer suggestions for improvements of the property as soon as the undertaking had advanced to the point where this feature was ready to be taken up. Mr. Wade promised that Mr. Green's services would not cost the city a cent and that he would come here to do whatever he could to help this civic project.

To Have Memorial

The proposal for an appropriate memorial in honor of heroes dead was also considered at the meeting on Friday and it was decided that some permanent token should be selected and given a place in the city park. The Woman's club committee will go into this matter further, deciding the nature of the memorial and other details concerning it.

Another meeting is to be held in the near future, to be called by Superintendent Wade.

MAN IS DROWNED WHEN HE TRIES TO REACH SHORE

Flood Stage of Wisconsin Riv. or Halts Search For The Corpses

(From Friday's Daily)

Believed to have been drowned Thursday afternoon when he attempted to reach the west shore of the Wisconsin river from Martin's island, popular summer resort, where he was caretaker, Tim Mullranin, aged 62 and single, was missing today.

Although a party of relatives and friends dragged the waters for several hours this morning, no trace of the man's body could be found. It is believed to be lodged on the island, which is covered with swirling water from the overflowing banks of the Wisconsin river. Because of the high stage of the stream, efforts to find the corpse were given up at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Armed by Cries

Members of the family of Fred Nolan, residing on the River View farm just across the river from the cottage in which Mullranin lived during the past winter, were aroused in the middle of the afternoon by the faint cries of a man for help. The distance from the mainland to the island is considerable at this point, and where the cries were coming from could not be discovered.

The water was within a foot of the floor of the caretaker's home, which like all other cottages on the island, is elevated on posts several feet above the ground as a precaution against floods. Thinking that Mullranin, who was well known to members of the Nolan family, was in his cottage and wished to come to the mainland, a telephone call was sent to H. H. Pagel of this city.

Herman E. Pagel and Charles Putney immediately drove up the river to Martin's island and taking a boat, rowed across to the cottage. Everything was in order inside but Mullranin was missing. There was a fire in the stove and a supply of food. Two pairs of oars were found on the platform of the cottage and the boat of the caretaker was then discovered about 100 yards down stream, floating upside down and lodged among trees. This discovery led to the belief that Mr. Mullranin had been drowned.

No Details of Tragedy

How the boat became capsized or how the aged caretaker was drowned is not definitely known. It is believed that Mullranin, in attempting to row over to the Nolan farm for a supply of food which had been left him there, had gotten into his boat, usually tied to the cottage, and then was swept away from the platform before he could grasp the oars, which were found on the cottage porch. The swift current quickly carried him downstream among the trees, where, it is thought, he was thrown out of the boat and the vessel turned over. The water is perhaps six feet deep where the boat was found, and is in varying depths approximating that nearby.

The cottage is at the head of the island and because of the brush below, it is thought that Mullranin's body may be lodged somewhere nearby. The water was receding today, and the party of searchers which this morning included Tom and Martin Mullranin, brothers, 193 Superior avenue, Mr. Nolan, Errol McCord, Chas. Russell and Frank Cook, abandoned their work until Saturday, when it is believed the water will have dropped sufficiently to make the search for the body comparatively easy.

Preparing to Leave

Mullranin went up to the island early last fall, and had been there during the entire winter, alone. He was preparing to leave in a short time. It is not believed that Mullranin became frightened because on Wednesday in conversation with H. H. Pagel, who had come up to see how he was getting along, he said that he was not afraid of the rising water and would stay on the island. At that time the water had overflowed the banks of the island and was lapping about the posts of the cottages.

Old Resident Here

Tim Mullranin was born at Menasha, Wis., and had been a resident of Stevens Point for nearly 40 years. He had worked as a stone mason and at various other occupations during his life. He was unmarried.

The deceased is survived by the following brothers and sisters: Peter, Martin, Tom and Mrs. Ellen Marks, 192 Superior avenue, city; James, Mrs. Louis Agan and Mrs. George Powers, all of Menasha.

NEW CANNING ORDER

Dried Peas Soaked First Must be Labeled as Such

Madison, April 10—On and after June 1, all cans containing peas which were dried and later soaked before canning, must bear a label carrying the following words in bold-face type at least one-half inch in height: "Dried Peas Soaked Before Canning."

This order, issued today by the Wisconsin department of markets, aims to protect the consumer from being deceived into buying peas which he might think were canned fresh from the pods, which really were soaked before packing. The regulation also protects the canner of green peas against the competition of lower grade products.

CUSTER-POLONIA

ARNOTT-CORNERS

BOTH TO BE FIXED

Town of Stockton Authorizes Its Board to Borrow Money to Complete the Work

This Year

Two important pieces of road work of value both to the town and to neighboring towns were ordered at the Stockton town meeting on election day. On motion of W. F. Collins of Arnott the town board was authorized and instructed to borrow whatever money is needed, in addition to what is on hand available for the purpose, to complete the surfacing of the Custer-Polonia and the Arnott-Hunter's Corners roads.

When this work is done there will be a first class road in all of the Stockton portion of the Custer-Polonia route, and as Sharon is doing its part, the road will be completed the entire length. A great deal of work was done on this road a year ago, but considerable of the resurfacing remains to be done. On the Arnott road completion of this piece will mean a first class gravel road from Hunter's Corners through Arnott and Maynard's Corners, where it connects with the Pleasant Valley road, all the way approximately to the Lanark church.

The Arnott and the Polonia roads are in reality one route enabling the large section of the county whose people attend the churches at Polonia and Custer to reach services conveniently, as well as to reach Polonia, Custer and Arnott for trading purposes. Incidentally the village of Stockton and city of Stevens Point will find the route useful. Eighteen and the Hunter's Corners road will be the main route from the city to Arnott.

The Hunters-Arnott road will be known as County Trunkline E. It as well as the Polonia road will be patrolled and will be as good a road as the state trunk line highways.

FAMILY TROUBLE, LIQUOR, THOUGHT SUICIDE CAUSE

Seth L. Harroun, Native of The County Is Victim of Own Hands

Crazed, it is thought by drink which had magnified family troubles, Seth L. Harroun, 1008 South Minnesota avenue, took his life on the outskirts of Green Lake village, Green Lake county, shortly before 6 Saturday evening, by cutting his throat three times with a razor.

Harroun, who had been living with a sister-in-law, Mrs. Theresa Harroun, on South Minnesota avenue, left Stevens Point Thursday morning to go to Watertown, to visit a daughter, Mrs.

Ervin Duggan. He told the local relatives that he was going to "walk or beat his way."

Found in Chicken Coop

According to a story told by a Green Lake man to the Journal in a long distance telephone call, Harroun arrived in Green Lake village on a train at three o'clock. Returning to his home in an isolated part of the village, Herbert Wesner, 16, found him in the chicken coop.

"Give me the key to the flat," Harroun was demanding of some imaginary person in the chicken coop. The youth, slightly scared, told Harroun that there was no one in the chicken coop and asked him what he wanted. A short conversation ensued, at the conclusion of which Harroun took a drink of liquor from a bottle which he was carrying and told Wesner "As long as you won't give me the key, I'm going. Goodbye."

Slashes Throat Three Times

The man walked down the road toward the village a short distance. Then the Wesner boy saw him pull a razor from his pocket and slash his throat. Running to his side, he found Harroun in a serious condition. Blood was streaming from his throat and he was rolling about on the ground.

The Green Lake boy rushed to a telephone and called a doctor. The physician arrived in a car a moment later. As Harroun was being taken to the doctor's office in the center of the village he passed away. He said nothing between the time he cut his throat and when he died.

Find Two Notes

On his person was found a slip of paper on which had been written a request that in case of death or injury, Mrs. Theresa Harroun of this city should be notified. Another note, evidently scrawled with great effort on a scrap of paper, asked that his body be taken to Watertown for burial.

In June, 1921, Harroun came to Stevens Point from Plover, to live with his sister-in-law. He worked at various odd jobs, and early in fall and in the winter he hauled wood from below Plover to the city. Since early this year he had not worked.

The Harroun family with which he lived included a niece, Mrs. Esther Sheppard of Mosinee with whom, the Journal was told by Clara Harroun, another niece, he had had numerous quarrels. Mrs. Sheppard left Stevens Point to return to Mosinee about two weeks ago.

Harroun, it was stated at the home on South Minnesota avenue, had never drunk during his residence here until this March, when he was known to have purchased liquor and imbibed. As far as is known here he had no liquor with him when he left Thursday.

Separated From Wife

Beyond the quarrels and trouble he had had with Mrs. Sheppard here, it was stated, Harroun had got along well with the local relatives. He had not lived with his wife for several years, it is stated. She is living with two daughters at Madison.

Harroun, when he left Stevens Point, intended to visit first at his daughter's home at Watertown. He also planned to go to Madison, to see his wife and daughters, Gladys and Lucy. He has a son, Lee, and a daughter, Mrs. Fred Volker, whom he was to visit at Cottage Grove, Wis.

The deceased was born in Plover, years ago April 19, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Harroun. He lived the greater part of his life, also spending a few years at each of the following places: Madison, Deerfield, Elm Mich., and Chicago. He was gone from this section altogether about years, it is stated.

Brother at Boone Vista

Besides his wife and son and daughters, he is survived by two brothers, Will of Mosinee and Horatio of Boone Vista, and a sister, Mrs. E. V. Tooping, at Nekeosa.

DELINQUENT TAX LIST LONGER IN '22 FOR COUNTY

Unpaid Real Estate and Personal Property Dues Total $35,712.41

Delinquent real estate and personal property taxes in Portage county, including Stevens Point, were $9,850.73 in excess of the amount of delinquency of 1921; according to figures compiled by County Treasurer Earl Newby.

Mr. Newby to whom all treasurers in the county have reported, has figures showing that the amount of real estate and personal property taxes unpaid in the county this year totals $35,712.41. In 1921 the taxes unpaid totalled $25,731.68.

Real estate taxes in the county not paid this year total $32,710.77. Personal property taxes delinquent represent the sum of $3,001.64. Income taxes not paid total $988.76.

No Delinquents in Two Places

Only two local governments in the county this year reported no delinquent real estate taxes, Nelsonville and Amherst Junction villages. Last year these same villages, and Junction City village and the town of Lanark were without delinquents.

The amount of descriptions of delinquent property in the possession of the county treasurer this year is far in excess of those held by him last year, according to Mr. Newby. This condition is caused by the fact that practically everywhere in the county this year the taxes are lower than last. With the amount of delinquency in money higher, there are therefore, many more descriptions turned in because with taxes lower much more land is represented in the delinquency list.

REMAINS LAID TO REST

Body of Katherine Schlegel Interred in Forest Cemetery

Rev. E. Croft Gear, rector of the Church of the Intercession, conducted burial services for the late Miss Katherine Schlegel at Forest cemetery last Thursday, the body being then consigned to earth.

Miss Schlegel who was a half-sister of John G. Beck, and for many years a member of the Superior Normal school faculty, died very unexpectedly at Rochester, Minn., a few weeks ago. The remains were brought to her former home here and later placed in the cemetery vault to await final disposition according to the terms of a will which she was believed to have left. Diligent search failed to locate any such document.

JEFFERSON STREET TO HAVE NEW HOMES

Lukasavitz to Erect Dwellings For John Baker and B. T. Nelson

John P. Lukasavitz, a building contractor who has done much work in this city and throughout the country, will erect two new homes on Jefferson street, a couple of blocks east of Division, and expects to commence both structures early next week. They will be on adjoining lots, one the property of John Baker, who will erect a one story house 24x30 feet and equipped with furnace heat and other modern improvements.

The second dwelling is that of B. T. Nelson, traveling salesman now living at 527 Ellis street, whose new home will be two stories high over full basement, and like that of his neighbor, modern in all respects. The basement walls for both houses will be of cement.

Mr. Lukasavitz has just started a part of his force of mechanics on the erection of an addition 30x40 feet, 16 foot posts, to the big barn owned by Charles Dombrowski, in the east part of the town of Stockton, near Nelsonville. Mr. Dombrowski is one of the progressive farmers in that section, making a specialty of dairying and now milks upwards of 20 high grade cows. The main barn was erected only a couple of years ago but has already proved too small for his rapidly growing herd.

MRS. GUENTHER DEAD

Former Resident of Stevens Point and Knowlton Expires in Wausau

The death of Mrs. Margaret Guenther, widow of the late Anthony Guenther, a pioneer resident of Knowlton and later to Wausau, occurred recently at Wausau. Two years ago she suffered a paralytic stroke, which weakened her condition although not enough to make her give up her household duties. Her last illness was brief.

The deceased was born in Rochester, New York, May 23, 1856, being the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Harder. The family moved to Stevens Point in 1866. When eighteen years of age the deceased went to Knowlton to live. On November 26, 1877, she was united in marriage with Anthony Guenther, who died in Wausau on December 12, 1913. About eight years ago the family went to Wausau to live. Surviving are ten children: Misses Irene and Isabel Guenther, of Washington, D. C., Miss Tekia Guenther of Minneapolis, L. G. Guenther of Shawano, Mrs. William Howlett, Mrs. Mark A. Guenther and the Misses Genevieve, Louise and Ruth Guenther and Kenneth Guenther of Wausau, two

PLOVER PEOPLE VOTE TO HELP INJURED MAN

Town Meeting Generously Aids Resident Who Lost A Leg

People of the town of Plover, at the annual town meeting in the town hall in the village of Plover last week Tuesday, voted, provided that the procedure was legal, to give Steve Prutz, a resident of the town, $200 with which to buy himself an artificial leg.

Mr. Prutz lost a leg last year, and had since been sick and in bed the greater part of the time, said Charles Zinda, a neighbor, who proposed that the town appropriate $200 to his aid. Although it was doubtful whether the town meeting could legally vote to give the sick man aid without his having made application in the regular manner, and the people at the meeting informed of that fact before they voted, there was a vociferous response of "aye" when the resolution was voted upon.

No Drainage Dams

A resolution which asked the people in town meeting assembled to petition the drainage commissioners to ask the circuit court for permission to construct dams in the drainage district in the town of Plover to assist in the fighting of marsh fires was voted down and laid on the table.

A resolution asking the state legislature to pass a law requiring spark arresters on all tractors used in farm work to prevent fires in rural districts, was passed. This resolution declared that marsh and grass fires in the country were frequently caused by sparks from tractors. It will be sent to the chief clerk of the assembly for communication to the legislature at its meeting in 1923.

Pass Fire Resolution

Another resolution in regard to marsh fires was passed by the people at the meeting after a short discussion. This resolution provided that in case of a fire on a farmer's property the owner of the land must furnish two men to fight the fire as long as it is on his property, without cost to the town. This measure is also to be communicated to the state legislature.

At the present time, fire fighters may petition and receive compensation for fighting fires from the town.

Had the village of Plover voted to dissolve and return to the town, salaries of the clerk, assessor and treasurer of the town would have been raised, the people of the town at the meeting voting to give each an increase in salary of $50, in case the village dissolved. Walter Smith proposed that the salary of the clerk alone be raised, and made $600 a year. Put in the form of a motion, this was voted down, but in its place the resolution raising the three officers' salaries was passed. The salary of the clerk is now $325, the assessor $200 and the treasurer $300.

Cemeteries Get Aid

A resolution asking the town to give $50 for maintenance and upkeep to each of the following cemeteries, was passed: Plover, Meehan, Polish, Maine and Meehan. The resolution asking the appropriation was signed by John Porter, Casimir Wozniak, E. S. Mason and G. Galetzke.

A refund of $12.80 to John Thomaszowski of the town of Plover was voted. Due to an error made years ago, Mr. Thomaszowski has been taxed in the wrong school district. The difference between the taxes he was assessed in the district in which he was placed through error, and the tax he should have paid, amounted to $12.50. He asked a refund only for this year, not for previous years.

There is a balance of $45,964.97 in the town treasury, according to the report of Clerk W. H. Calkins.

PLOVER MAN IN JAIL ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Anton Bienaszski Pleads Not Guilty To Charge Before Justice

W. F. Moore

Anton Bienaszski, Plover, is in the county jail, awaiting trial in circuit court on a charge of violation of the liquor laws.

Bienaszski was arrested in Plover a few days ago on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, by Constable Ray Weinhold. Arraigned before Justice W. F. Moore, he pleaded guilty and was assessed a fine of $10 and costs of $3.49, which he paid.

Constable Weinhold, it is charged, found a half pint of "moonshine" in Bienaszski's possession. Given a hearing on the liquor charge, Bienaszski pleaded not guilty. After hearing testimony of several witnesses Justice Moore bound him over to circuit court, and in default of $300 bail was lodged in the county jail.

VOTING WAS HEAVY IN LINWOOD TOWNSHIP

The following is the complete vote for town officers in Linwood: For chairman, Ed. Frost 75, Fred Giese 53; Nick Niemczyk 53; John Wintek 18. For supervisors: Charles O'Brien 53; Joe Simpson 52; John Laduski 58; Ed. Barden 55. For clerk, S. O. Hassell 162; for treasurer, Nick Britz 161. C. W. Bremmer 26. For assessor, August Schlenvogt 129, John Brown 66.

MRS. MALTBY IS DEAD

Mother of Mrs. Welsby Passes Away Wednesday Evening

Mrs. A. N. Maltby, who for the past several years had resided with her daughter, Mrs. J. N. Welsby, at 927 Main street, passed away at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Maltby had been very poorly since last fall but was up and about the house each day until a week ago. The beginning of her poor health dates back to 1908, when she suffered severe injuries to her head and back and her general nervous system was upset by a cyclone which passed over Monroe county that summer and wrecked the Maltby farm home near Oakdale.

Clamy Inez Baker was a native of Fort Ann, New York, May 27, 1846, daughter of Enoch and Rachel Thompson Baker. The family moved to Wisconsin in 1855 settling in Monroe county, and the deceased was married at Tomah Dec. 27, 1862, to A. N. Maltby. A few days later Mr. Maltby volunteered for service in the Civil War and did not return until the close of hostilities. He and Mrs. Maltby came to Stevens Point in 1915 and the husband died at the Welsby home in February of the following year.

Mrs. Maltby was a member of the Order of Eastern Star and Woman's Relief Corps at Tomah and also affiliated with the local chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

DAVID M. ANDREWS CLAIMED BY DEATH

David M. Andrews, a life-long resident of Stevens Point prior to seven years ago, passed away at his home in Rhinelander at 7:20 o'clock Thursday evening. His illness of eight weeks' duration, is believed to have been a recurrence of influenza which he suffered two years ago. Tuberculosis was the immediate cause of his death.

The body was brought to Stevens Point on Saturday afternoon and taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Robert Juchen at 325 McCulloch street, where funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. E. Croft Gear of the Church of the Intercession. Burial followed in the Union cemetery beside the remains of his late parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Andrews.

Mr. Andrews was born in Stevens Point 41 years ago and attended the local schools when a boy. In August, 1903 he was married to Mrs. Celena Hubbard and they resided here prior to seven years ago when they removed to Rhinelander. Mr. Andrews was a paper hanger and painter, following that trade here and also at Rhinelander. He held membership in the Modern Woodman order.

MRS. FRED BUCKNELL PASSES AWAY TUESDAY AT AMHERST VILLAGE

Illness of Many Years and Attended by Great Suffering is Ended
by Her Death

(By Special Correspondent)
Amherst, April 7.—Mrs. Fred Bucknell passed away at her home on High street early Tuesday morning after an illness covering a period of 17 years, nine of which she has been a helpless invalid. She was a sufferer with rheumatism and other complications. For nearly four years she has also been totally blind. Through all her great suffering and affliction she was never known to murmur or show any mark of impatience. Olive E. Haskin was the daughter of Thatcher and Henrietta Haskin and was born at Dartford, Green Lake county, Wisconsin, December 31, 1849. When 16 years of age she united with the Christian church, but later in life became a member of the Congregational church. She was married shortly after the close of the civil war, to Jos. Dawes at Poydras. Three sons were born to them, one died in infancy, another at the age of 22 years. The only surviving son, Frank Dawes, lives in the town of Lamark. After the death of Mr. Dawes she was married to Fred Bucknell at Pittsville, Wood county, March 31, 1883. They went to house-keeping at once on a farm near Sheridan, where they lived till they moved to Amherst, April 18, 1920. Mr. and Mrs. Bucknell were the parents of two children, one son, Alver J., who resides on a farm east of town, and one daughter, Flora. Mrs. Felton, passed away at her home in Indiana 11 years ago. She also leaves one brother, William Haskin of Milwaukee, who is the last of a family of nine children. The funeral was held today at the home. Rev. E. M. Oliver officiated. The body was then taken to the Sheridan cemetery, where services were held followed by interment in the Sheridan cemetery by the side of her daughter.

Post-Election Reflections

As the Journal has already announced the village of Plover stands pat ranks and under the leadership of Farmer Bill voted to remain as they are. Thus they can't be classed with the butcher's cart, which came back. Well, we congratulate Bill on his victory and if we were living in the village we too would have voted to remain. It is a question in our minds what would have happened had it not been for retired Farmer Bill and his farmer friends. We all love Plover and want to see her grow and prosper even if retired farmers do have to put the thing across. Plover is chuck full of good people and a nice clean town and with the help of retired farmers fully capable of managing her own affairs. Go ahead, Bill, keep the home fires burning and may the old town prosper under your leadership. We are glad you are a stand pater and you may count on us farmers, who are still on the firing line to do all in our power to help you on the supernumerary list to hold the fort.

Town meeting passed off just as all such meetings should. The day was an ideal one, the farmers were there, the ladies were there, and judging by the appearance the paper mills and River Pines sanatorium took a day's vacation and came even the Journal had a representative there. The best of fellowship prevailed and every one was happy. In fact it was remarked that the whole affair was just like an old fashioned home-coming.

RECOUNT IS SOUGHT OF JUNCTION VOTES UPON SUPERVISOR

Davis Hulse, Loser by Three on Face of the Returns, Believes Recount May Show Him
the Winner

The necessary legal papers were served Monday calling for a recount of the votes cast for village officers at the election in Junction City last week Tuesday. The instigator of this action is David Hulse, one of the candidates for supervisor, who lost out by three votes according to the returns made by election board officers. Mr. Hulse was credited with 42 votes, while George Stertz, Sr., was given 45. The latter had represented Junction village on the county board for several years until a year ago, when Mr. Hulse was elected. In last week's balloting Mr. Stertz was the caucus nominee but Hulse's friends also got busy, with the result of the exceedingly close vote noted above.

Formal action towards recounting the ballots is expected within a few days.

A NEW EXPLOSIVE

Wilmington, Del., April 12.—Reports from various parts of the country show that "Dumortite," the new explosive recently put on the market, is effecting reductions in blasting costs amounting to one-third and more. Statements from users show this is especially true in quarry, farm blasting and other open work, because the new dynamite frequently shoots stick for stick with regular forty per cent dynamite while at the same time, each case contains at least one-third more cartridges.

A quarry company in the middle west reports that in their operations, Dumortite is materially reducing blasting costs. In eastern quarries, equally good results have been obtained.

Experimental work in stump blasting had already shown that Dumortite was an important money-saver for the farmer.—Advertisement.

SPECIAL SERVICES DURING HOLY WEEK

April 9 was Palm Sunday. It marked the beginning of Holy week, the week in which the passion and sufferings of Christ are commemorated by special services in Christian churches.

Before all of the high masses in the Catholic churches of the city Sunday, palms were blessed and distributed to the people, in commemoration of the triumphant entry of Christ into Jerusalem the week before his crucifixion. Palms were also distributed at the Church of the Intercession.

Thursday is Holy Thursday and it opens three days of services in Catholic churches, which are significant of many events attending the passion of Christ. In the local Catholic churches a high mass and procession of the blessed sacrament will be held Thursday morning, the sacrament being taken from the main altar in the church and taken to a repository. The main altar is stripped of all its decorations on this day.

The service Friday is held but once each year, on Good Friday. It is called the mass of the presanctified. Saturday morning Easter water is blessed in the churches, and the paschal candle is also blessed and lit. Mass is said in the churches on Saturday morning, and Lent is over at noon on Saturday.
